H. M. BAGGARLY, editor of The Hamlin Herald, had these sage remarks recently in his column:

Man has a way of setting himself up as a judge as he evaluates things about him.

That's why a woman either approves or disapproves of her neighbor's hat or dress. She is never neutral—either she likes or dislikes it.

That's why a man passes judgment upon the political leanings of another man.

The thing to remember is this: A person must never give more than he can take.

If a woman presumes to criticize her neighbor's hat, then she must not be offended when her own hat is criticized by her neighbor.

Likewise, if a man is going to express his own political leanings, then he must be willing to let the other fellow do the same.

SOME TERSE PRECEPTS to those of teen age were recently given in the Kansas University Witan under the caption of "Ten Things I Wish I Had Known Before I Was 21."

1. What I was going to do for a living—exactly what my life-work would be.

2. That my health after 30 depended in a large degree on what I put into my stomach before I was 21.

3. How to take care of money.

4. The commercial asset of being neatly and sensibly dressed.

5. That habits are mighty hard to change after you're 21.

6. That worthwhile thing require time patience and work.

7. That the world would give me just about what I deserved.

8. That a thorough education not only pays better wages than hard labor but it brings the best of everything else.

9. The value of absolute truthfulness in everything.

10. That my parents weren't old fogies after all.

TO A CHILD thrust into a strange world a good teacher is the best thing that can possibly happen.

A teacher is courage with kleenex in its pocket, sympathy struggling with a snow suit, and patience with papers to grade.

Teachers spend 12 hours a day searching for truth and the other 12 hours searching for error.

They are indispensable, invincible and nearly inexhaustible.

A teacher really does not mind ruffles, squirmings, stomach ache, pills, sloth and sauciness. Neither does she disintegrate before tears, trifles, fights, futility, excuses, parents who spout, little boys who shout and little girls who pout.

Most of all a teacher is somebody who likes somebody else's children—and still has enough strength left to go to the P-T-A meeting.

Thank heaven for teachers!

WE'VE GONE quite a spell now without improving this column with a silly ditty. But just for fear someone might begin to believe that we have improved our tastes, how's this one for real rhythmic time:

Broccoli
While not exoccoli,
Is within an inch
Of being spinach!

BARBS is the title of a clever column running every day in The Fort Worth Press that has quibs of pungency. To show what we mean, we lift a few for reproduction here:

Medicine and advice—easy to give but hard to take!

The start of school brought the three Rs to Mom—rest, relief and relaxation.

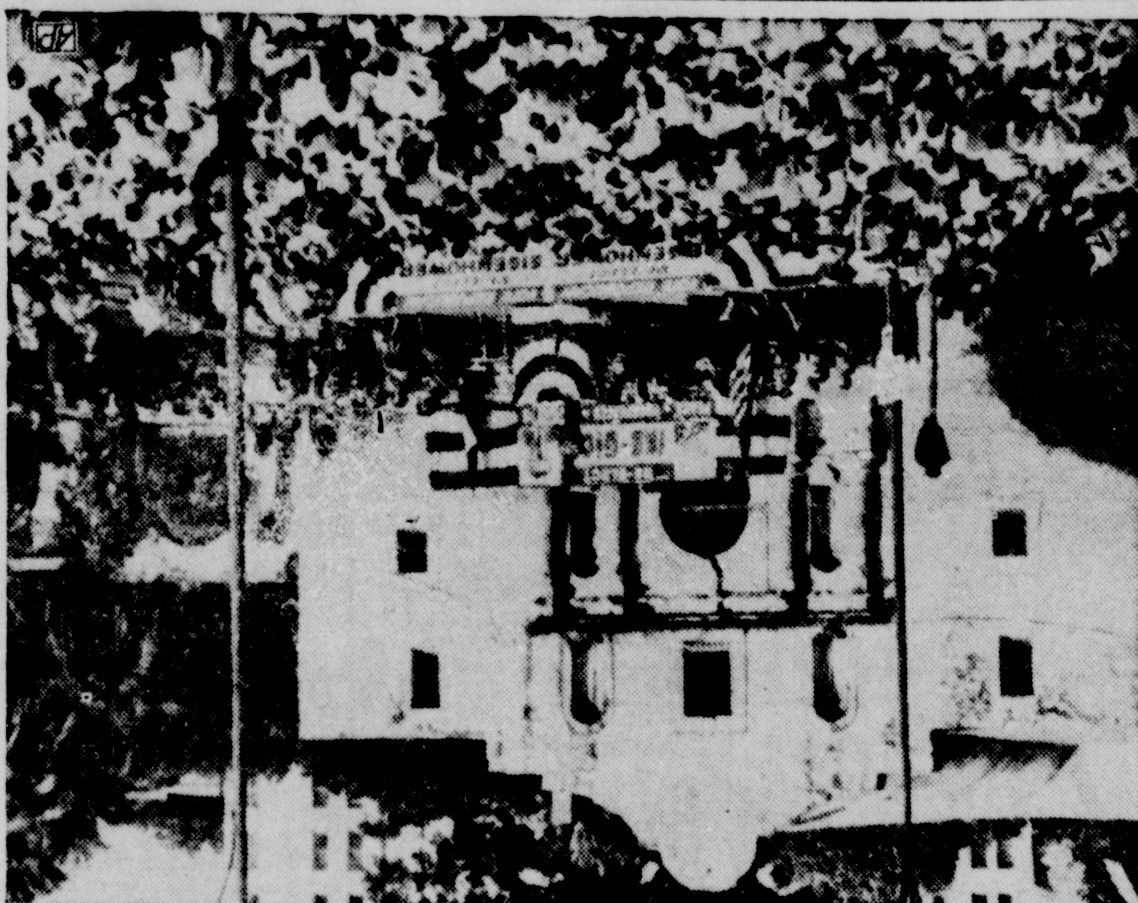

A writer says that change lets us have a better view of life. Sure—if we get enough and spend it wisely.

Growers doubtless are glad of grape season again when they can squeeze out a nice profit.

Several pens were reported stolen from the post office in a small Indiana town. Comes the surprise when the thieves try to write with them.

A school board in the South voted for more soap in the washrooms. Junior is always getting it in the neck.

Now that the bathing beauty contests are over, we can report that it was the spectators who won.

NIXON BEFORE THE ALAMO—Vice President speaks before the historic alamo in San Antonio to a large crowd in the plaza. Nixon was making his second stop in his campaign swing through the state. It was his second visit to Texas in quest of votes for the Republican ticket.

More Than 600 Attend 2nd Homecoming at High School

Joe Ford Named President of Exes In Business Meet

Attendance of more than 600 at the barbecue last Saturday noon at the school cafeteria climaxed the second annual homecoming of Hamlin High School ex-students. Some 450 exes had been registered in the homecoming festivities of Friday and Saturday in the second annual gathering of former students of the school.

At the program Saturday morning in the high school auditorium Jim Kidd of the class of 1948, now principal of the high school at Morton, told the group "not to be the hole in the middle of the doughnut." He asked those present for the affair to remember that the community made everything possible for them. "As citizens we all have a responsibility to our own community; we should strive toward being a good representative of our community; we should feel pride in our community," he declared.

Mrs. B. S. Ferguson Sells Theaters in Week-End Deal

Consummation of a sale of the Ferguson and Drive-In Theaters was completed over the week-end whereby Carl Benefield of Amarillo and Ed Green of Dallas became the new owners.

The sale was made by Mrs. B. S. Ferguson, who has owned and operated the theaters in Hamlin, with her husband who died several years ago, since 1919.

The new owners assumed charge of the properties Sunday.

Named manager of the theater properties is Darwin Barnes, who is moving to Hamlin this week-end. He succeeds Bryant Conner, who has been employed and manager for the Fergusons since 1919.

The new owners announce that the Drive-In Theater in South Hamlin, which has not been operated this season, will reopen Friday night.

Barnes declares that several repairs and improvements will be made in the theater properties within the next several weeks.

TESTIFIES—H. J. (Jack) Porter of Houston, Texas Republican national committeeman, emphasizes a point as he denied before the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee in Washington that there has been any selling of government jobs in his state under the Eisenhower administration. Several earlier witnesses testified Porter wrote postmasters and other government employees soliciting funds for the Republican party.

Methodist Laymen To Be in Charge of Sunday Services

Men of the First Methodist Church will be in charge of all activities at the morning service in observance of Laymen's Day, according to Rev. Darrell L. Egger, pastor. Even the pastor will be in the pew for the service.

Laymen's Day in the Methodist Church was instigated several years ago by Ray Nichols, newspaper publisher of Vernon, and has grown in importance for several years. County Judge Explains Stand of Commissioners

Considerable stir has been caused by an article that appeared in last Tuesday morning's Abilene Reporter-News concerning Jones County's failure to cooperate financially in the hiring of another court secretary for District Attorney Tom Todd of the 104th Judicial District.

The article quoted several Abilene people criticizing the Jones County Commissioners Court and County Judge H. G. Andrews for their failure to help pay the cost of the secretary.

A particular irritating statement made by one person quoted was that by giving publicity to the Jones County position they hope to "shame" Jones County into cooperating.

To clarify the Commissioners Court's position in the matter, the following statement is given to The Herald for publication by County Judge Andrews:

The Commissioners Court of Jones County has, on four or five

Another Extension of Emergency Grain Program Announced

Another extension in the emergency feed grain program in Jones and Shackelford Counties has been made, according to advice from Walter T. McKay, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, to Leonard C. Williams, county supervisor of the FIA at Anson.

Under this extension farmers and ranchers may now file applications through December 3 for a supply of feed grain necessary to carry basic livestock herds through December 31.

This extension of the emergency feed grain program now coincides with the assistance available under the roughage program for Texas, and enables county FIA committees to consider total feed requirements, both roughage and grain, through December 31.

Annual Homecoming for Methodists Talked at Fiftieth Anniversary Rites

First Methodist Church's fiftieth anniversary celebration Sunday was a big success: from every standpoint, declares Rev. Darrell L. Egger, pastor.

The largest congregation in many years assembled Sunday morning to hear Dr. Will C. House former pastor from 1946 to 1951, speak at the morning worship hour. He spoke on the subject of "Salvation: Past, Present and Future." Some 350 people were present.

A crowd estimated at some 200 was fed a typical old fashioned Methodist dinner in the church basement at the noon hour. Joe Cubertson was chairman of the food arrangements.

In the afternoon program Rev. Egger presided. Former pastors were introduced, and they related experiences that occurred during their pastorates here. Speaking were Rev. James Harrell, pastor from 1940 to 1944, and now pastor at Morton; Rev. H. A. Longino pastor from 1934 to 1936, now retired and living at McLean; Rev. E. L. Yeats, pastor from 1944 to 1946, now retired and living at Roby. Other former members spoke briefly, recounting happy and humorous incidents.

Dr. Will C. House was distinguished as the person having been a member of the Methodist Church the longest period—64 years. Dr. House is now retired and living in Oak Cliff, Dallas.

Mrs. J. E. Stone of Beaumont travelled the longest distance to the anniversary celebration. Five charter members were present for the golden anniversary occasion: Lulan Vaughan, Pearl Hudson and Mrs. L. L. Cowan, all of Hamlin; Mrs. Cowan's sister, Mrs. Ruth Brians Grisham of Abilene and Mrs. C. D. Hudson of Abilene.

A keen interest was expressed in the plan to have an annual church homecoming in connection with the Hamlin High School homecoming, declares Rev. Egger.

NEW AGRICULTURE MARKETS TO BE SOUGHT

It has been proposed that Congress appropriate $100,000,000 to finance a program for finding new uses for farm products. The American Meat Institute urges that basic research be stressed in carrying out that program.

In a statement to the Senate committee on agriculture and forestry, the institute observes that, "In spite of the wonderful advances made by science, there are great gaps in our basic understanding of the natural laws and the biological processes." It lists a number of areas vital to progress in the livestock and meat industry in which augmented research is needed. These include studies of the chemical composition and characteristics of meat and meat by-products, carcass quality of beef and pork, meat preservation, nutritive value of animal fats, meat flavor and tenderness, new commercial uses for animal by-products, physical and chemical properties of meat proteins, and meat pigment research. In the case of farm products other than meat, of course, there are comparable areas where basic research could open new horizons of knowledge.

The institute's suggestion is a sound one. Research—basic as well as applied—has been the very heart of industrial progress. But in this all-important field agriculture has so far lagged behind. There is every probability that over a period of time research could create and develop vast new markets for the products of agriculture. That, conceivably, could prove the solution to the vexing farm surplus problem.

Share Road—Arrive Alive!

You don't have to be a mind-reader to stay safe in traffic, but it helps! In the varied pattern of modern traffic, in which one false move can involve you in a serious accident, you stand a better chance of staying safe if you've learned to anticipate the actions of other drivers.

The Texas Safety Association says that traffic is a group movement, and one of the most important factors in coping with it is the ability to keep in step with the traffic flow—to share the road cooperatively with other drivers.

This is no cinch. The traffic pattern is variable, and sometimes changes abruptly. Today's driving requires versatility—you need to be alert and adaptable every minute you are behind the wheel.

In a routine drive to the grocery store you may be exposed to a variety of traffic situations. A traffic jam... a careless pedestrian... an unsafe action of another driver... these are a few of the things that may suddenly touch off a dangerous situation.

Whenever you take a trip of any considerable length, your alertness and adaptability must be on quick call because you will probably encounter a variety of traffic patterns. Each shift in environment will necessitate a shift in driving techniques.

No Blending Is Possible

Writing in a newspaper feature, Ralph T. Moore tells of a lecture he attended. The speaker was a Hindu college professor, and the burden of his talk was that his "native land would never forsake democracy for communism but would employ the best in both ideologies to build a new nation: dedicated to the best interests of its people and catering to no formal economic or political system now extant."

This, Moore observed, would indeed be an ideal course—seems to answer all the questions and solve all the problems. "But," he then wrote, "it simply won't work because both democracy and communism are integrated patterns of life. One must accept or reject each in toto. There can be no blending of parts."

Long ago, Lincoln expressed such a principle in an immortal phrase. He said that no nation can endure half slave and half free. "This country's power, as Moore well put it, 'stems from an almost complete absence of force and coercion. Its motivation is voluntary and therefore of spiritual nature.' Soviet power, on the other hand, stems from the use of absolute force and coercion. The individual has no choice; he must submit to the will of the state or be destroyed."

For any nation to attempt to reconcile such opposed systems, and to seek to employ the best in each as the Hindu professor so hopefully stated, is worse than impossible. It is suicidal. Freedom and oppression cannot blend any more than can oil and water.

Catch Rain Where It Falls

Nowadays millions of people think of flood control as something that requires huge multipurpose dams costing an incredible sum of tax money.

The truth is that big scale flood control, in case after case, can be better effected at vastly lower cost, by small upstream dams.

This story was recently told in a National Municipal Review article by Peter Farb. He dealt with what has been done on a stream in Western Oklahoma which formerly suffered an average of nine floods per year. The Soil Conservation Service—with only pennies to spend where the big dam groups spend dollars—solved the problem by the upstream approach. Of this, Farb writes, "The upstream approach is as different from the big dam approach as earth is from concrete. While SCS diminishes floods by trapping water upstream, and thus minimizes downstream flood conditions, the Army Engineers try to control already swollen rivers." The upstream dams, he adds, are each about 1-2,000th the size of a typical big dam built by the engineers, and the cost is comparably less.

The whole theory of upstream flood prevention can be expressed in a phrase—catch the raindrops where they fall. It is sound, it works, and it is relatively inexpensive.

Why, then, has there been so much propaganda for the multi hundred million dollar big dams? One reason is that these dams also produce power—and their construction is devoutly desired by those who want to see a tax subsidized, socialized federal electric power monopoly established in this country.

Editorial of the Week

VOICE OF THE NATION

"It is difficult through law and through force to change a man's heart... but I do believe that we must all, regardless of our calling, help to bring about a change in spirit so that extremists on both sides do not defeat what we know is a reasonable, logical conclusion to this whole affair, which is recognition of equality of men... The South is full of people of good will, but they are not the ones we now hear... adamant and so filled with prejudice they even resort to violence... and on the other side, the people who want to have the whole matter settled today..."

This is not a part of a sermon, though it well could be. It was President Eisenhower's answer to a press conference question about racial integration in the schools.

It is an expression of the anguish that all good Americans, in all sections of the land, feel over the shameful disorders that are disgracing our country—and, at the same time, of the hope and belief that they soon will cease.—The Fort Worth Press.

Economists say our monetary system should be more elastic. A better idea would be to make it more adhesive.—Morill, Neb., Mail.

The way of the transgressor may be hard—but it isn't lonely.—Chang, Times.

Planning Pays Off For Seeding Grass Say Soil Experts

Now, six months in advance of planting time, is the most opportune time to plan your grass seedings, point out leaders of the California Creek Soil Conservation District, for the following three reasons:

First, do you have the seed? Grass seed such as blue panic, King Ranch bluestem, weeping lovegrass or sorghum alnum are scarce and in demand.

Second, grain sorghum stubble should not be plowed on land that will blow. Stubble should be left on the surface of all land, but especially for grass seeding the stubble should be left standing.

Third, planning ahead is essential for any crop. This is definitely true with grass seeding in land in this program will be committed for several years. Which type land should be put in grass?

SEE YOU LATER.

Two mosquitoes were resting on Robinson Crusoe's arm. "I'm leaving now," said one. "I'll meet you on Friday."

Franz Josef Haydn is called the father of instrumental music.

This should depend on an overall conservation plan for the farm. Land most subject to erosion needs the protection that only grass cover can give, however good land is made better by a grass rotation. So perhaps some land of both types should be put in grass.

By applying to your Soil Conservation District for assistance land owners can get an inventory of their land. Also technical assistance in developing a complete conservation plan for their farms.

Purpose of the district is to help farmers and ranchers conserve the soil and water. How successful a conservation plan on a farm is, of course, depends upon the farmer and what use he may make of it.

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

The wheelbase got longer... so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform... a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need... plus a new Mileage Maker Six.

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater... the price is still Ford-low.

It does one good to reminisce. Just now in my memory there flashes upon the astral screen (which I can plainly see) Hamlin as it was in 1906—many people I have known—and myself, as a boy with Knickerbocker pants, high top patent leather button shoes, walking into W. M. Holland & Son Dry Goods on October 1, 1906, starting on my first store job. What a sensation! High hopes and happy heart! Many experiences I have had—and most all pleasant, happy experiences. I think it does one good occasionally to stop and think . . . yes, and to review. Here is my service record in Hamlin in the center columns below. Look it over and study it.

I am proud of my record which has taken 50 years to achieve. Each year is a milestone which takes 365 days to reach, and most of these days were 12, 14 and 16 and many 18 working hours. Each year holds dear memories. Each year I put forth, and today am putting forth, continuous efforts to serve to the best of my ability. I have truly enjoyed every year, and have worked with and dealt with some of the grandest people who ever lived. Today I do not know a one whom I do not hold in the highest esteem. Many of these have passed on. I am still here. God and Hamlin (you, the people of Hamlin and the trade territory) have been good and considerate . . . and I think it is in order to express my appreciation in all sincerity of having had the privilege of living here—through the good and the bad years—among the grandest people on earth.

Here, where I have spent my life trying to please and to give everyone the same attention in all business dealings, and never had a dissatisfied customer for the firm where I was employed if within my power to prevent it. I am happy in the thought today. I do not know of one—if there is, I am here, ready and willing to adjust any error or mistake I may have made, and I've made many. This year is comparable to some of the past years, yet more trying. People today are looking for better buys—where their money will go further—we all are. Experience has taught me that you get what you pay for. But today, by manipulations, do we get what we think we are paying for? I have handled various and numerous brands. I have seen them come and go and stay. In October, 1906, I sold Arrow products, and they are still leaders in their field. Buster Brown shoes and numerous other brands I have sold through the scale of years listed above. These brands have kept abreast of the times. The dependable brands stay on and improve each year, and by selling such brands affords us the confidence to guarantee every item we sell—and no sale is final until you are satisfied—which convinces us nationally known brands of dependable merchandise still are today the best guides to better buying. We respectfully solicit a continuation of your patronage, and those who are not now our customers, your patronage—solely upon the merits of our products and our service.

Texans Find Ike Stands For Same Things We Do

A fellow was in our town the other day selling men's suits. He was from St. Louis, and he said he was a manufacturer's representative. Grandpa would have called him a dry goods drummer, and Papa would have referred to him as a traveling salesman. This shows you how things change with time. But actually that fellow from St. Louis was doing just about what the earlier visitors did—trying to sell suits.

You might say that he stayed in the same place but the names and faces would have changed. Reminded me some of the political situation in Texas.

I was reading a letter in the daily newspaper last week, from a man who said he was going to vote for Eisenhower. "I am a Democrat," he wrote to the editor of the paper, "but I feel like the party has run off and left me."

Come to think of it, a lot of conservative-type Texas Democrats are in that shape today. They haven't changed their views much on such things as local control, government spending, bureaucracy, red tape, and freedom of the individual; they still travel down the same road they did 20 or 30 years ago, even if they do it at 70 miles an hour instead of 25.

They grew up believing that a man could live down nearly any-

Miss Galloway is a 1956 graduate of Hamlin High School and is at present employed by Bradford Insurance Agency in Sweetwater. Young Boen is a 1954 graduate of Rotan High School and is employed by the Phillips Petroleum Company at Odessa.

After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home at Odessa.

Xi Gamma Pi Group Meets in Poe Home

Final plans were made for the formal opening of the Hamlin Memorial Library when members of Xi Gamma Pi met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George Poe. Mrs. J. O. Ballard presided in the absence of Mrs. Leroy Smith.

to invite the Xi Gamma Pi exemplar chapter to the annual dinner held for the pledges and their husbands after the pledge ritual.

Mrs. Austin Poe, former director for Beta Theta, presented the program on "Prose." She illustrated with Edna Ferber's short story, "The Gay Old Dog."

Next meeting of the sorority will be October 23 in the home of Mrs. Wilson Brannon.

Mrs. J. P. Morgan Speaks at Meeting Friday Eve of Hamlin Garden Club

Mrs. J. P. Morgan was the featured program speaker when members of the Hamlin Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. L. B. Smallwood for their regular meeting Friday afternoon.

The session was called to order by the president, Mrs. Harold Bonner. The club collect was led by Mrs. M. T. York. After a brief business session, roll call was answered by "My Most Successful Plant."

Mrs. C. G. Green, Plant Texas chairman, urged members to make a list of any seeds, plants or shrubs set out before January. All this will be compiled in her report, to be sent in to the Federated Garden Clubs for their goal to plant Texas.

Mrs. L. E. Prewitt, director, introduced Mrs. J. P. Morgan, who spoke on the subject, "And So to Bed." In her talk she emphasized making use of the fallen leaves for mulching and for a compost heap. They are invaluable for enriching the soil, she said.

Mrs. S. C. Ferguson spoke on "Take the Roof Off Your Lawn." While grass clippings are good, they can keep the water from penetrating the roots, she reminded.

Four floral arrangements were displayed throughout the living room. Mrs. Roy Carmichael used a tall crystal vase filled with pink radiance roses which was effectively displayed in a modern design. Mrs. Harold Bonner's arrangement consisted of pink dahlias and queen's wreath. On the mantle Mrs. Clyde Grice arranged pink roses with queen's

Fuel Injection and New Transmission Feature New Chevrolets Due Friday

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission make their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets, which go on display Friday in Hamlin at the Carl Murrell Chevrolet Company.

The Chevrolet Motor Division announced that fuel injection was introduced on the Corvette engine, a lively V-8 of 283-horsepower that is to be available as an option through the line of Chevrolet passenger cars. Also unveiled for the first time is the new transmission, known as the turboglide.

In addition to the trail blazing ramjet fuel injection and the new transmission, the latest models present a multitude of other styling and performance features that promise greater owner satisfaction than ever before.

Fuel injection, a long time objective of American automotive engineers in their quest for ideal flexibility in performance, replaces the customary carburetor. Because of quicker power response and faster warm-up, it is expected to gain almost universal adoption within a few years. Chevrolet pioneered the device in its field and will be one of the few makes, regardless of price, to offer the advance engines this year.

The turboglide transmission is a Chevrolet exclusive. It carries the principle of torque conversion—first introduced in Chevrolet's powerglide in 1950—to a new peak in efficiency. The triple-turbine, with infinitely variable ratio characteristics, produces an uninterrupted driving force at all speeds. There is no feeling of "shift."

Turboglide incorporates an unusual hill retarder, one of many new safe driving improvements on the latest Chevrolets. The retarder aids braking on steep downgrades. With larger glass area, surer traction, stronger frames and a re-design of steering wheel and instrument panel to reduce possible injuries on abrupt stops the cars set new standards of safety.

In eye appeal the 1957 Chevrolets differ strikingly from 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

Camp Fire Girls Go To Lake for Hiking And Cooking Out

Members of the Skatani group of Camp Fire Girls met Saturday morning at 7:15 at the Camp Fire hut on Avenue E and from there hiked to the lake, carrying their food in packs.

The girls cooked their breakfast and lunch over a camp fire.

After breakfast two girls marked a trail for a mile and the others had to follow the markers of bent twig and rock markers. The girls also collected outcrops, rocks and different leaves and grass and explained all they knew about them.

Members attending were Linda Cavitt, Pat Blankinship, Darlene Josey, Thelma McClung, Mary Smith, George Ann Black, Sandra Smith. Guardians were Mrs. G. T. Black and Mrs. Milton Smith. Visitors were Janice and Crystal Black and Holly Campbell of Stamford.

Attendees included Mrs. V. Madden, Mrs. G. B. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings and David, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rhoton. Next meeting of the group will be November 5.

Women's Golf Group Now Has 20 Members

The Woman's Golf Association of Hamlin now has 20 members, report officials of the recently organized group. The unit is open to other women of the community upon payment of an annual fee of $5. Tuesday is ladies' day at the Lakeview Golf Course.

A number of Hamlin women golfers are playing this week in the Snyder women's golf tournament.

DISTINCTIVE STYLING and trim treatments for each of the three series of 1957 Chevrolet passenger cars are emphasized dramatically in this two-level photo of the Two-Ten sport sedan, at top, and the Bel Air convertible. The new models went on display Wednesday at Carl Murrell Chevrolet Company. Bodies plus wide range in color choices total 460 for the line of Chevrolet models this year.

Children of Primary School See Fire Truck

"The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime" came Tuesday of Fire Prevention Week for about 270 children of the Hamlin Primary School when Lee Hastings brought the new fire truck to school, showed them the firemen's equipment and took each class group for a ride around the school block.

VISITING BROTHER.

Sid King of Redlands, California, is in the Hamlin community visiting his brother, Rev. Sam King.

The children wrote stories and made posters about the work of the fire department. They also learned how to help the firemen by not following the trucks to a fire or running over the fire hose.

AFFECTION RATED.

Since little Johnny's personal horizon had been greatly extended by several months at kindergarten, his mother decided to inquire concerning his current loyalties.

"Dear," said she, "whom do you love the best?" The youngster pondered the query soberly and then replied, "Well, I love you best, Mommie and Daddy next best, and my teacher the least. And in between come a lot of dogs."

Pipers Hit Road Again for Game at Albany Frigay Night

Nix-Men Due to Take Final Tilt On Open Slate

After four home games in a row, the Hamlin High School Pipers will hit the road again Friday night when they traipse over to Albany for their last non-conference tilt of the season.

Besides the usual number of Hamlin High School students, including the Pep Squad and Piped Piper Band, a caravan of boosters from over the community is scheduled to accompany the football delegation. The caravan is being sponsored by the Piped Piper Booster Club, which has led two other caravans to area games.

Hamlin is hoped to win the Friday night tilt, but Coach Truman Nix declares that just such a crew as the Albany Lions might trip his crippled gridders.

Lane Fletcher, stellar end on the Hamlin squad, will be out of Friday night's game as a result of a dislocated knee cap sustained in the Colorado City tilt. Herbert Lakey and Joe Murff are on the lame list, and Jerry Jay, who saw limited service in the Wolf game, still is ailing from his neck injury. Jay will be used on offense only, Nix says.

Albany has not won a game this year, having played some of the top Class A and AA teams of the region. The Anson Tigers defeated the Lions last Friday night by a 41 to 9 score.

DISTRICT 4-AA STANDINGS

District 4-AA gridsters further improved their percentages in last week-end's games by continuing their three wins out of four tilts for the week, although Seymour dropped from the 1,000 per cent rating with its loss to Dumas.

After the week-end skirmishes the percentages looked like this:

Teams—	P.	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Stamford	6	6	0	0	1.000
Seymour	6	5	1	0	.832
Hamlin	6	3	2	1	.583

Pied Pipers Drub Colorado City 31-0 In Friday Classic

Hamlin High School's Piped Piper football crew entertained a big homecoming crowd Friday night with a 31 to 0 drubbing of the Colorado City Wolves on the Piper stadium. It was the Wolves' fifth straight loss for the year.

Hamlin started marking on the scoreboard 10 minutes deep in the first period. Dee Prewitt recovered a Colorado City fumble on the Hamlin 25-yard line, and after three plays Herbert Lakey went over for the tally from the four-yard spot. Charles Jenkins failed to convert.

In the second period, after four minutes of play the Pipers again tallied when Don Adair passed to Virgil Wilson for a 60-yard toss. Jenkins again failed the pointer. Doug Ford took the opening kick-off in the second half on the Hamlin 15 and raced 85 yards for another tally, and Jenkins' boot again was wide.

In the third quarter Adair handed off to Ford, who went over from the 15-yard spot after a 65-yard Hamlin push down the field. The extra point try by Jenkins again went awry.

Final score of the tilt came in the last quarter when Adair passed to End Jerry Jay, who went over from the nine. This time Jenkins converted.

County 4-H Boy May Get Chicago Trip to Congress

Jimmy Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roberts of Route 3, Stamford, has been named first alternate in the state field crops award program for 4-H Club boys. Young Roberts will receive an expense paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in the event the effort place winner is unable to attend, according to Bill Lehmborg, county agent.

Jimmy has been in 4-H Club work for eight years, and has had had swine, poultry, farm safety, leadership, recreation, tractor maintenance and field crops for his demonstrations. He has participated in crop judging, grass judging and several team demonstrations. He was high point individual in the state 4-H Club crop judging contest in 1955.

Outstanding awards he has won include the Gold Star, Talent Club, farm and home safety, poultry award, crop award, achievement, leadership, recreation and tractor maintenance awards.

He is chairman of the County 4-H Club Council and president of the Anson Junior Leaders 4-H Club.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Climb

Freight carloadings of the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending October 6, 1956, were 26,886 compared with 23,284 for the same week in 1955. Cars received from connections totaled 13,678 compared with 13,150 for the same week in 1955.

Total cars moved were 40,564 compared with 36,434 for the same week in 1955. Santa Fe handled a total of 39,732 cars in the preceding week of this year.

District 4-AA Grid Teams Further Fatten Percentages with Three Wins

District 4-AA football teams followed through with their three-win, one-loss pattern in last week-end's games to keep up a pace carried through five of the six week-ends since the grid season started. All three of the southern teams came through with victories while Seymour, in the north end of the district, was taking its first defeat of the season.

Seymour made its only score in the second quarter when Larry Ware went over from the one-yard line. Scoring for Dumas were Jim Toner, Bill Hibler, Dwayne Mowery, Roy Byrd and James Boyd.

Hamlin's 31 to 0 shellacking of the Class AAA Colorado City Wolves was unimpressive, since the victory added another to the string of five losses suffered this season by the Mitchell County lads. The tilt was played before a big homecoming crowd at Piped Piper stadium. Scoring for the Hamlin crew were Herbert Lakey, Doug Ford, two, Virgil Wilson and Jerry Jay. Charles Jenkins kicked only one extra point, it coming after the final touchdown.

First downs favored Hamlin nine to eight. Stephen Day set up the first printing press in the U. S. in 1638.

victories as they fell before the onslaughts of the Jones County capital boys. Incidentally, the Piped Pipers meet Albany Friday night in their last non-conference game of the year.

The strong Seymour Panthers suffered their first loss of the season by a 40 to 6 count as they journeyed to the Panhandle town of Dumas. Dumas was celebrating their homecoming and wanted to show the exes how things are done. Seymour made its only score in the second quarter when Larry Ware went over from the one-yard line. Scoring for Dumas were Jim Toner, Bill Hibler, Dwayne Mowery, Roy Byrd and James Boyd.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

Farmers Union in Fisher Soliciting More Members

More than 50 local members of a well organized team started driving the back roads and main highways Monday on a county-wide two-day membership drive for the Fisher County Farmers Union, according to Max Carriker, Fisher FU president. He said that a great number of farmers of Fisher and surrounding counties are now beginning to understand Farmers Union, and are ready to join the ranks in the fight for the survival of the family farm.

Fisher has a present membership of approximately 300 and has set its drive goal conservatively at 400, even in the face of widespread economic hardship, according to Carriker.

The Fisher County drive was to be climaxed by the regular Farmers Union October meeting on Tuesday night in the courthouse at Roby, at which time the membership was to hear a program designed to familiarize them with the new, more liberalized loans of Farmers Home Administration.

"We are going to make an honest attempt to contact every farmer in Fisher County on the drive," Carriker said.

Veterans Must Make Insurance Shift Soon

Veterans separated from active service since September 4, 1956, will not have 120 days in which to apply for five-year term non-convertible GI insurance. They will have only until December 31, 1956.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office at Lubbock, said the new application deadline was set by the recently enacted service men's and veterans' survivor benefit act.

Wheat Growers of Texas Put 919,985 Acres in Reserve

Scores of Hamlin area wheat farmers were among the 12,116 Texas wheat growers who signed agreements and placed 919,985 acres under the winter wheat acreage reserve program of the soil bank through October.

Wooten said if the farmers who have signed agreements comply with the requirements of the program they will be eligible for a maximum of $14,067,075 in acreage reserve payments on the acreage pledged.

Aimed primarily at reducing price depressing surpluses of corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts, the acreage reserve program of the soil bank is available only to producers having acreage allotments of these crops or a soil bank corn base acreage. Wooten said in the release to The Herald. Program details for 1957 have been made available so far only for winter wheat seeded this fall for harvest next year.

The 1957 acreage reserve program goal for the nation for both winter and spring varieties of wheat is 15,000,000 acres. Nationally, through September 28, wheat farmers had signed 106,485 agreements placing 4,335,555 acres under the 1957 winter wheat acreage reserve program. The final date for signing agreements was October 5.

Social Security Man To Come to Hamlin At Regular Intervals

Persons residing in and around Hamlin will have regular service of a field representative from the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration effective this month, according to R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager.

Glen McNatt, field representative, will be at the Hamlin fire station at 10:00 a. m. on the following Mondays: October 29, November 26 and December 17.

Anyone with a general or specific question about some phase of the old age, survivors' or disability insurance provisions of the social security act should keep the above dates in mind and arrange to talk with McNatt.

Tuley advises that continuation of this service beyond December will depend on the number of callers, for if McNatt is not kept busy he will be sent elsewhere on the dates tentatively reserved for Hamlin after January 1.

Parker May Cited For Stellar Service For Government

Citation for superior service was recently given Parker May by the director of the United States Information Agency in Washington, D. C., according to word from the nation's capital.

The award was made "for superior service, loyalty and devotion to duty with the USIA, and especially for outstanding executive ability, intelligence and integrity exhibited in administering the world-wide program of the information service center," according to a certificate presented him. In addition, May received a handsome engraved silver medal.

Presentation took place October 5 in the auditorium of the Department of the Interior. Music for the program was furnished by the Headquarters Command Band of the Bolling Air Force Base. The assembly was addressed by Hon. William H. Jackson, special assistant to the president. The awards were made by Theodore C. Streibert, director of the U. S. Information Agency.

May, son of Mrs. M. P. May of Hamlin, is a member of a well known family of West Texas, among whom are Tate May, president of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank of Hamlin; Bob May of Colorado City; James Truett May of Salinas, California; Mrs. Mattie May Rister of Lubbock; and Mrs. Annie Laurie May Johnson of Rotan.

Parker May has been in the U. S. government service for nearly a quarter of a century, having served in the Department of Agriculture, the Department of the Interior, the Treasury Department, the Veterans Administration, the War Food Administration and the Office of War Information, in addition to his present position in the USIA, where he is assistant chief for operation information center service.

COURT COSTS

prior occasions, carefully considered the request by Tom Todd for additional help. On each occasion the request was declined because the Commissioners Court felt that every available dollar was needed in Jones County. The court has had an increase in amount of applications for help to indigent persons, which situation was brought on by the prolonged drought.

Another factor in the court's decision was the statement by County Attorney C. E. Brownfield Jr. and Sheriff Dave Reeves that they had each offered on several occasions to help relieve some of the work load of the district attorney on criminal cases in Jones County in addition to the normal duties of their respective offices.

I am very happy that Tom Todd, district attorney of the 104th Judicial District, was able to secure another secretary through Taylor County. This is proper and just because the increased work, if any, imposed upon the district attorney has been caused by the growth in population of Taylor County.

The criminal work for the district attorney has remained fairly steady in Jones County and is no heavier now than it was during the 12 or 13 years in which Esco Walter, John Wiloughby and Bill Tippen so ably served Jones County.

I sincerely believe that the decision of the Commissioners Court of Jones County was correct, and was made in the best interests of the taxpayers of Jones County.

G. T. Black Attends Teacher Conference

The conference consisted of addresses by men of national prominence in the profession, demonstrations and group discussions.

HHS Seniors Selling Birthday Calendars To Raise Trip Funds

Do you have trouble remembering birthdays, anniversaries or club meetings? If you do, then the senior class of Hamlin High School has just the thing for you. For a limited time they are taking ads for community calendars.

These calendars will include such things as birthdays, anniversaries, meetings of all sorts, as well as the usual days of the year. For 25 cents a name will be placed under the date of birth of this person, or date of marriage, or the birthday of a soldier. The calendars will sell for 75 cents each, and any senior will be glad to take your order.

Since the calendars are going to begin with January, 1957, it is necessary that all the orders be turned in by October 25, say class members. Proceeds from the calendar will be used toward expenses of the annual senior trip next May.

Oil Serves You
OIL PROGRESS WEEK
Oct. 14-20

LET'S MEASURE AN OIL WELL

... in West Texas

You can measure an oil well by its depth, by its production, or in any of a number of ways. But the real "measure" of an oil well is to be found in the jobs it creates, in the schools and highways it provides, in the stores, shops and industries it supports... in short, the real measure of an oil well is in the benefits it brings to all the people of an area. The West Texas Utilities Company, too, can be measured in the record it has made in helping the West Texas Oil Industry serve the people of West Texas.

West Texas Utilities Company

Congratulations to the OIL INDUSTRY on its service to the people.

Film on Role of Oil Industry Seen At Lions Meeting

Vital role the oil industry is playing in the economy of the community and the nation as a whole was impressively pointed out in an Oil Progress Week program Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

A film, "The First Barrel," was presented under the supervision of Joe League, field manager for General Grude Oil Company at Hamlin.

League, in presenting the film, first declared that some 660,000 men and women work directly in the oil industry, which handles about 2,133,000,000 barrels of crude annually.

The film depicted the odds taken by an oil company in finding oil in unproven areas, from the time first surveys are made until the well is completed. Other processes of piping, refining and distributing of oil products were also touched on in the film.

Three new members were initiated into the Lions Club by B. V. Newberry. The new members are R. T. Spaulding, Frank Legon and Rev. Calvin Bailey.

Guests at the Tuesday luncheon included F. A. Hunter of Abilene, J. F. Hulsey, C. W. Griggs, J. Ballard, and Rev. Bill Hanna.

H. M. BAGGARLY, editor of The Tulsa Herald, had these sage remarks recently in his column:

Man has a way of setting himself up as a judge as he evaluates things about him.

That's why a woman either approves or disapproves of her neighbor's hat or dress. She is never neutral—either she likes or dislikes it.

That's why a man passes judgment upon the political leanings of another man.

The thing to remember is this: A person must never give more than he can take.

If a woman presumes to criticize her neighbor's hat, then she must not be offended when her own hat is criticized by her neighbor.

Likewise, if a man is going to express his own political leanings, then he must be willing to let the other fellow do the same.

SOME TERSE PRECEPTS to those of teen age were recently given in the Kansas University Witan under the caption of "Ten Things I Wish I Had Known Before I Was 21."

1. What I was going to do for a living—exactly what my life-work would be.
2. That my health after 30 depended in a large degree on what I put into my stomach before I was 21.
3. How to take care of money.
4. The commercial asset of being neatly and sensibly dressed.
5. That habits are mighty hard to change after you're 21.
6. That worthwhile thing require time patience and work.
7. That the world would give me just about what I deserved.
8. That a thorough education not only pays better wages than hard labor but it brings the best of everything else.
9. The value of absolute truthfulness in everything.
10. That my parents weren't old fogies after all.

TO A CHILD thrust into a strange world a good teacher is the best thing that can possibly happen.

A teacher is courage with keenness in its pocket, sympathy struggling with a snow suit, and patience with papers to grade.

Teachers spend 12 hours a day searching for truth and the other 12 hours searching for error.

They are indispensable, invincible and nearly inexhaustible.

A teacher really does not mind miffles, squirmings, stomach aches, pills, sloth and sauciness. Neither does she disintegrate before tears, trifles, fights, futility, excuses, parents who spout, little boys who shout and little girls who pout.

Most of all a teacher is somebody who likes somebody else's children—and still has enough strength left to go to the P.T.A. meeting.

Thank heaven for teachers!

WE'VE GONE quite a spell now without improving this column with a silly dilly. But just for fear someone might begin to believe that we have improved our tastes, how's this one for real rhythmic time:

Broccoli
While not exocoll,
Is within an inch
Of being spinach!

BARBS is the title of a clever column running every day in The Fort Worth Press that has quibs of pungency. To show what we mean, we lift a few for reproduction here:

Medicine and advice—easy to give but hard to take!

The start of school brought the three Rs to Mom—rest, relief and relaxation.

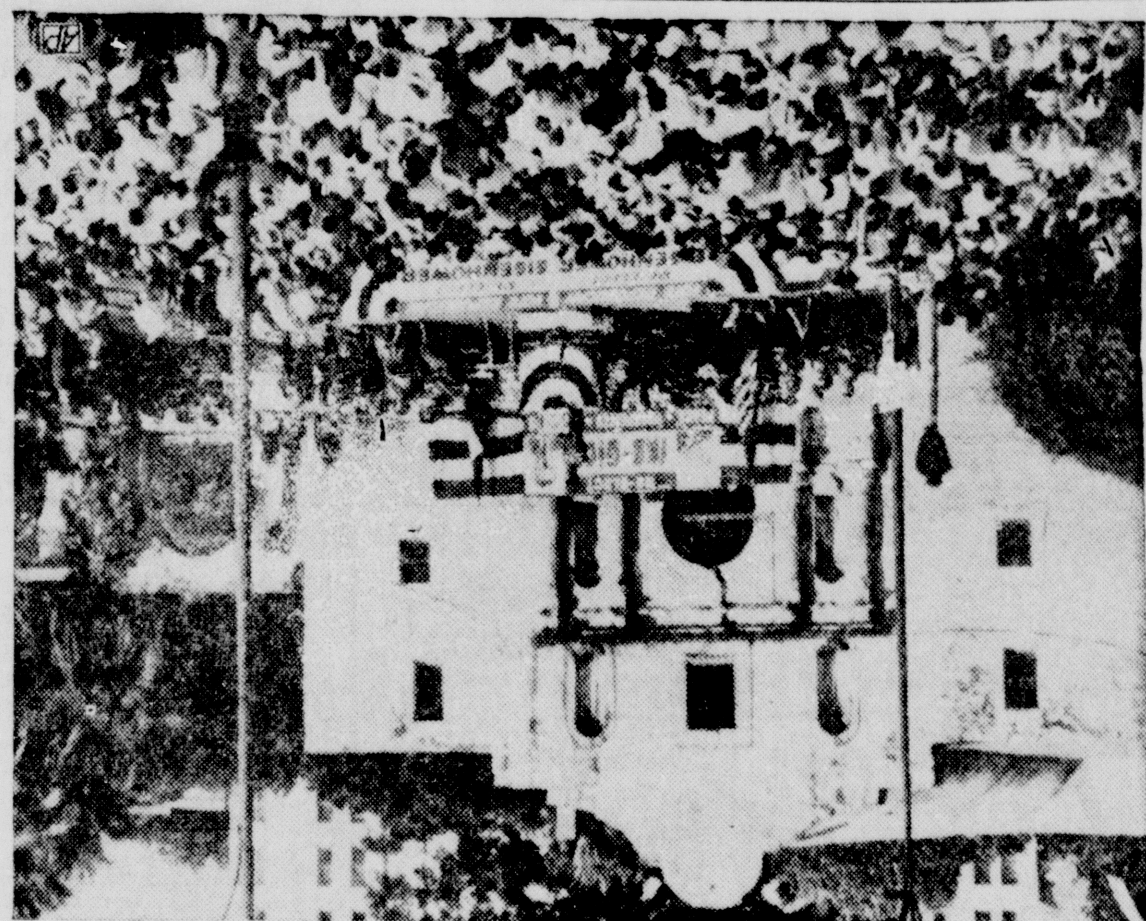

A writer says that change lets us have a better view of life. Sure—if we get enough and spend it wisely.

Growers doubtless are glad of grape season again when they can squeeze out a nice profit.

Several pens were reported stolen from the post office in a small Indiana town. Comes the surprise when the thieves try to write with them.

A school board in the South voted for more soap in the washrooms. Junior is always getting it in the neck.

Now that the bathing beauty contests are over, we can report that it was the spectators who won.

NIXON BEFORE THE ALAMO—Vice President speaks before the historic alamo in San Antonio to a large crowd in the plaza. Nixon was making his second stop in his campaign swing through the state. It was his second visit to Texas in quest of votes for the Republican ticket.

More Than 600 Attend 2nd Homecoming at High School

Joe Ford Named President of Exes In Business Meet

Attendance of more than 600 at the barbecue last Saturday noon at the school cafeteria climaxed the second annual homecoming of Hamlin High School ex-students. Some 450 exes had been registered in the homecoming festivities of Friday and Saturday in the second annual gathering of former students of the school.

At the program Saturday morning in the high school auditorium Jim Kidd of the class of 1948, now principal of the high school at Morton, told the group "not to be the hole in the middle of the doughnut." He asked those present for the affair to remember that the community made everything possible for them. "As citizens we all have a responsibility to our own community; we should strive toward being a good representative of our community; we should feel pride in our community," he declared.

Several earlier witnesses testified Porter wrote postmasters and other government employees soliciting funds for the Republican party.

County Judge Explains Stand of Commissioners

Considerable stir has been caused by an article that appeared in last Tuesday morning's Abilene Reporter-News concerning Jones County's failure to cooperate financially in the hiring of another court secretary for District Attorney Tom Todd of the 104th Judicial District.

The article quoted several Abilene people criticizing the Jones County Commissioners Court and County Judge H. G. Andrews for their failure to help pay the cost of the secretary.

A particular irritating statement made by one person quoted was that by giving publicity to the Jones County position they hope to "shame" Jones County into cooperating.

To clarify the Commissioners Court's position in the matter, the following statement is given to The Herald for publication by County Judge Andrews:

The Commissioners Court of Jones County has, on four or five

Another Extension of Emergency Grain Program Announced

Another extension in the emergency feed grain program in Jones and Shackelford Counties has been made, according to advice from Walter T. McKay, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, to Leonard C. Williams, county supervisor of the FHA at Anson.

Under this extension farmers and ranchers may now file applications through December 3 for a supply of feed grain necessary to carry basic livestock herds through December 31.

This extension of the emergency feed grain program now coincides with the assistance available under the roughage program for Texas, and enables county FHA committees to consider total feed requirements, both roughage and grain, through December 31.

Annual Homecoming for Methodists Talked at Fiftieth Anniversary Rites

First Methodist Church's fiftieth anniversary celebration Sunday was a big success from every standpoint, declares Rev. Darris L. Egger, pastor.

The largest congregation in many years assembled Sunday morning to hear Dr. Will C. House former pastor from 1946 to 1951, speak at the morning worship hour. He spoke on the subject of "Salvation: Past, Present and Future." Some 350 people were present.

A crowd estimated at some 200 was fed a typical old fashioned Methodist dinner in the church basement at the noon hour. Joe Curbertson was chairman of the food arrangements.

In the afternoon program Rev. Egger presided. Former pastors were introduced, and they related experiences that occurred during their pastorates here. Speaking were Rev. James Harrell, pastor from 1940 to 1944, and now pastor at Morton; Rev. H. A. Longino pastor from 1934 to 1936, now retired and living at McLean; Rev. E. L. Yeats, pastor from 1944 to 1946, now retired and living at Roby. Other former members spoke briefly, recounting happy and humorous incidents.

Dr. Will C. House was distinguished as the person having been a member of the Methodist Church the longest period—64 years. Dr. House is now retired and living in Oak Cliff, Dallas.

Mrs. J. E. Stone of Beaumont travelled the longest distance to the anniversary celebration. Five charter members were present for the golden anniversary occasion: Lulan Vaughan, Pearl Hudson and Mrs. L. L. Cowan, all of Hamlin; Mrs. Cowan's sister, Mrs. Ruth Brians Grisham of Abilene and Mrs. C. D. Hudson of Abilene.

A keen interest was expressed in the plan to have an annual church homecoming in connection with the Hamlin High School homecoming, declares Rev. Egger.

NEW AGRICULTURE MARKETS TO BE SOUGHT

It has been proposed that Congress appropriate $100,000,000 to finance a program for finding new uses for farm products. The American Meat Institute urges that basic research be stressed in carrying out that program.

In a statement to the Senate committee on agriculture and forestry, the institute observes that, "In spite of the wonderful advances made by science, there are great gaps in our basic understanding of the natural laws and the biological processes." It lists a number of areas vital to progress in the livestock and meat industry in which augmented research is needed. These include studies of the chemical composition and characteristics of meat and meat by-products, carcass quality of beef and pork, meat preservation, nutritive value of animal fats, meat flavor and tenderness, new commercial uses for animal by-products, physical and chemical properties of meat proteins, and meat pigment research. In the case of farm products other than meat, of course, there are comparable areas where basic research could open new horizons of knowledge.

The institute's suggestion is a sound one. Research—basic as well as applied—has been the very heart of industrial progress. But in this all-important field agriculture has so far lagged behind. There is every probability that over a period of time research could create and develop vast new markets for the products of agriculture. That, conceivably, could prove the solution to the vexing farm surplus problem.

Share Road—Arrive Alive!

You don't have to be a mind-reader to stay safe in traffic, but it helps! In the varied pattern of modern traffic, in which one false move can involve you in a serious accident, you stand a better chance of staying safe if you've learned to anticipate the actions of other drivers.

The Texas Safety Association says that traffic is a group movement, and one of the most important factors in coping with it is the ability to keep in step with the traffic flow—to share the road cooperatively with other drivers.

This is no cinch. The traffic pattern is variable, and sometimes changes abruptly. Today's driving requires versatility—you need to be alert and adaptable every minute you are behind the wheel.

In a routine drive to the grocery store you may be exposed to a variety of traffic situations. A traffic jam... a careless pedestrian... an unsafe action of another driver... these are a few of the things that may suddenly touch off a dangerous situation.

Whenever you take a trip of any considerable length, your alertness and adaptability must be on quick call because you will probably encounter a variety of traffic patterns. Each shift in environment will necessitate a shift in driving techniques.

No Blending Is Possible

Writing in a newspaper feature, Ralph T. Moore tells of a lecture he attended. The speaker was a Hindu college professor, and the burden of his talk was that his "native land would never forsake democracy for communism but would employ the best in both ideologies to build a new nation: dedicated to the best interests of its people and catering to no formal economic or political system now extant."

This, Moore observed, would indeed be an ideal course—seems to answer all the questions and solve all the problems. "But," he then wrote, "it simply won't work because both democracy and communism are integrated patterns of life. One must accept or reject each in toto. There can be no blending of parts."

Long ago, Lincoln expressed such a principle in an immortal phrase. He said that no nation can endure half slave and half free. "This country's power, as Moore well put it, 'stems from an almost complete absence of force and coercion. Its motivation is voluntary and therefore of spiritual nature.' Soviet power, on the other hand, stems from the use of absolute force and coercion. The individual has no choice; he must submit to the will of the state or be destroyed."

For any nation to attempt to reconcile such opposed systems, and to seek to employ the best in each as the Hindu professor so hopefully stated, is worse than impossible. It is suicidal. Freedom and oppression cannot blend any more than can oil and water.

Catch Rain Where It Falls

Nowadays millions of people think of flood control as something that requires huge multi-purpose dams costing an incredible sum of tax money.

The truth is that big scale flood control, in case after case, can be better effected at vastly lower cost, by small upstream dams.

This story was recently told in a National Municipal Review article by Peter Farb. He dealt with what has been done on a stream in Western Oklahoma which formerly suffered an average of nine floods per year. The Soil Conservation Service—with only pennies to spend where the big dam groups spend dollars—solved the problem by the upstream approach. Of this, Farb writes, "The upstream approach is as different from the big dam approach as earth is from concrete." While SCS diminishes floods by trapping water upstream, and thus minimizes downstream flood conditions, the Army Engineers try to control already swollen rivers." The upstream dams, he adds, are each about 1-2,000th the size of a typical big dam built by the engineers, and the cost is comparably less.

The whole theory of upstream flood prevention can be expressed in a phrase—catch the raindrops where they fall. It is sound, it works, and it is relatively inexpensive.

Why, then, has there been so much propaganda for the multi hundred million dollar big dams? One reason is that these dams also produce power—and their construction is devoutly desired by those who want to see a tax subsidized, socialized federal electric power monopoly established in this country.

Editorial of the Week

VOICE OF THE NATION

"It is difficult through law and through force to change a man's heart... but I do believe that we must all, regardless of our calling, help to bring about a change in spirit so that extremists on both sides do not defeat what we know is a reasonable, logical conclusion to this whole affair, which is recognition of equality of men... The South is full of people of good will, but they are not the ones we now hear... adamant and so filled with prejudice they even resort to violence... and on the other side, the people who want to have the whole matter settled today..."

This is not a part of a sermon, though it well could be. It was President Eisenhower's answer to a press conference question about racial integration in the schools.

It is an expression of the anguish that all good Americans, in all sections of the land, feel over the shameful disorders that are disgracing our country—and, at the same time, of the hope and belief that they soon will cease.—The Fort Worth Press.

Economists say our monetary system should be more elastic. A better idea would be to make it more adhesive.—Morrill, Neb., Mail.

The way of the transgressor may be hard—but it isn't lonely.—Chang, a Times.

Planning Pays Off For Seeding Grass Say Soil Experts

Now, six months in advance of planting time, is the most opportune time to plan your grass seedings, point out leaders of the California Creek Soil Conservation District, for the following three reasons:

First, do you have the seed? Grass seed such as blue panic, King Ranch bluestem, weeping lovegrass or sorghum alnum are scarce and in demand.

Second, grain sorghum stubble should not be plowed on land that will blow. Stubble should be left on the surface of all land, but especially for grass seeding the stubble should be left standing.

Third, planning ahead is essential for any crop. This is definitely true with grass seeding in land in this program will be committed for several years. Which type land should be put in grass?

SEE YOU LATER.

Two mosquitoes were resting on Robinson Crusoe's arm.

"I'm leaving now," said one. "I'll meet you on Friday."

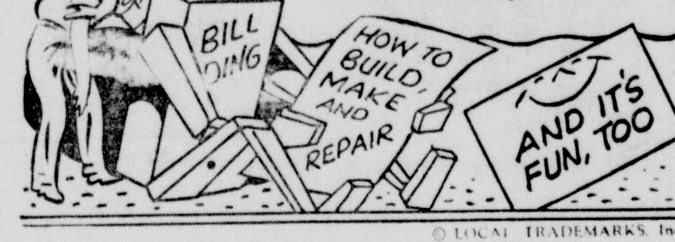

Franz Josef Haydn is called the father of instrumental music.

This should depend on an overall conservation plan for the farm. Land most subject to erosion needs the protection that only grass cover can give, however good land is made better by a grass rotation. So perhaps some land of both types should be put in grass.

By applying to your Soil Conservation District for assistance land owners can get an inventory of their land. Also technical assistance in developing a complete conservation plan for their farms.

Purpose of the district is to help farmers and ranchers conserve the soil and water. How successful a conservation plan on a farm is, of course, depends upon the farmer and what use he may make of it.

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

The wheelbase got longer... so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform... a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need... plus a new Mileage Maker Six.

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater... the price is still Ford-low.

* A Special 270-hp Thunderbird 118 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 118 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

So now you know the magic of the '57 FORD!

Selling nationally branded merchandise of quality, which is your best guide to better buying. Below we list a few of the many brands we stock. When you buy any of these items, you buy the best!

It does one good to reminisce. Just now in my memory there flashes upon the astral screen (which I can plainly see) Hamlin as it was in 1906—many people I have known—and myself, as a boy with Knickerbocker pants, high top patent leather button shoes, walking into W. M. Holland & Son Dry Goods on October 1, 1906, starting on my first store job. What a sensation! High hopes and happy heart! Many experiences I have had—and most all pleasant, happy experiences. I think it does one good occasionally to stop and think . . . yes, and to review. Here is my service record in Hamlin in the center columns below. Look it over and study it.

I am proud of my record which has taken 50 years to achieve. Each year is a milestone which takes 365 days to reach, and most of these days were 12, 14 and 16 and many 18 working hours. Each year holds dear memories. Each year I put forth, and today am putting forth, continuous efforts to serve to the best of my ability. I have truly enjoyed every year, and have worked with and dealt with some of the grandest people who ever lived. Today I do not know a one whom I do not hold in the highest esteem. Many of these have passed on. I am still here. God and Hamlin (you, the people of Hamlin and the trade territory) have been good and considerate . . . and I think it is in order to express my appreciation in all sincerity of having had the privilege of living here—through the good and the bad years—among the grandest people on earth.

Here, where I have spent my life trying to please and to give everyone the same attention in all business dealings, and never had a dissatisfied customer for the firm where I was employed if within my power to prevent it. I am happy in the thought today. I do not know of one—if there is, I am here, ready and willing to adjust any error or mistake I may have made, and I've made many. This year is comparable to some of the past years, yet more trying. People today are looking for better buys—where their money will go further—we all are. Experience has taught me that you get what you pay for. But today, by manipulations, do we get what we think we are paying for? I have handled various and numerous brands. I have seen them come and go and stay. In October, 1906, I sold Arrow products, and they are still leaders in their field. Buster Brown shoes and numerous other brands I have sold through the scale of years listed above. These brands have kept abreast of the times. The dependable brands stay on and improve each year, and by selling such brands affords us the confidence to guarantee every item we sell—and no sale is final until you are satisfied—which convinces us nationally known brands of dependable merchandise still are today the best guides to better buying. We respectfully solicit a continuation of your patronage, and those who are not now our customers, your patronage—solely upon the merits of our products and our service.

Texans Find Ike Stands For Same Things We Do

A fellow was in our town the other day selling men's suits. He was from St. Louis, and he said he was a manufacturer's representative. Grandma would have called him a dry goods drummer, and Papa would have referred to him as a traveling salesman. This shows you how things change with time. But actually that fellow from St. Louis was doing just about what the earlier visitors did—trying to sell suits.

You might say that he stayed in the same place but the names went off and left him. Reminded me some of the political situation in Texas.

I was reading a letter in the daily newspaper last week, from a man who said he was going to vote for Eisenhower. "I am a Democrat," he wrote to the editor of the paper, "but I feel like the party has run off and left me."

Come to think of it, a lot of conservative-type Texas Democrats are in that shape today. They haven't changed their views much on such things as local control, government spending, bureaucratic red tape, and freedom of the individual; they still travel down the same road they did 20 or 30 years ago, even if they do it at 70 miles an hour instead of 25.

They grew up believing that a man could live down nearly anything except voting for a Republican. They always voted straight, until a good many of them jumped over the traces in '52 and went for Ike.

"I can't figure out what's happened," one of them told me. "Seems like Eisenhower talks like a Democrat and Stevenson talks like a college professor."

The other day this same fellow said: "I think I've got it figured out. Ike stands for the things us Texas Democrats have always stood for. Adlai is too thick with Walter Reuther and that crowd to suit me. I'm going for Ike again."

That's the way with most folks in our town. They decided to give Ike a try at it in '52, and they like the way he has gone about the job. There are some things they wished he'd done a little different, but by and large they think he has made us a fine President. At least all the hometown boys are back from Korea, and as far as we can tell the government is being run honestly.

Somebody asked that Missouri suit salesman how Mr. Truman was getting along, and he said he didn't know. "He isn't in the clothing business any more," he explained. "In fact, as far as I can tell, he is clear out of all kinds of business."

Young Truly,

Fuel Injection and New Transmission Feature New Chevrolets Due Friday

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission make their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets, which go on display Friday in Hamlin at the Carl Murrell Chevrolet Company.

The Chevrolet Motor Division announced that fuel injection was introduced on the Corvette engine. A lively V-8 of 283-horsepower that is to be available as an option through the line of Chevrolet passenger cars. Also unveiled for the first time is the new transmission, known as the turboglide.

In addition to the trail blazing

ramjet fuel injection and the new transmission, the latest models present a multitude of other styling and performance features that promise greater owner satisfaction than ever before.

Fuel injection, a long time objective of American automotive engineers in their quest for ideal flexibility in performance, replaces the customary carburetor. Because of quicker power response and faster warm-up, it is expected to gain almost universal adoption within a few years. Chevrolet pioneers the device in its field and will be one of the few makes regardless of price, to offer the advance engines this year.

The turboglide transmission is a Chevrolet exclusive. It carries the principle of torque conversion—first introduced in Chevrolet's powerglide in 1950—to a new peak in efficiency. The triple-turbine, with infinitely variable ratio characteristics, produces an uninterrupted driving force at all speeds. There is no feeling of "shift."

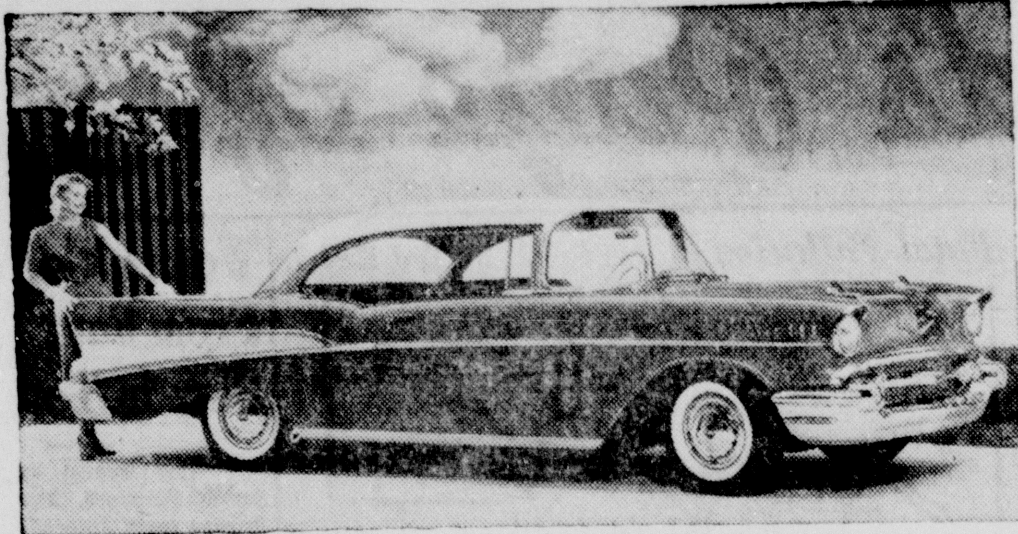

Turboglide incorporates an unusual hill retarder, one of many new safety driving improvements on the latest Chevrolets. The retarder aids braking on steep downgrades. With larger glass area, surer traction, stronger frames and a re-design of steering wheel and instrument panel to reduce possible injuries on abrupt stops the cars set new standards of safety.

In eye appeal the 1957 Chevrolets differ strikingly from 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

Women's Golf Group Now Has 20 Members

The Woman's Golf Association of Hamlin now has 20 members, report officials of the recently organized group. The unit is open to other women of the community upon payment of an annual fee of $5. Tuesday is ladies' day at the Lakeview Golf Course.

A number of Hamlin women golfers are playing this week in the Snyder women's golf tournament.

DISTINCTIVE STYLING and trim treatments for each of the three series of 1957 Chevrolet passenger cars are emphasized dramatically in this two-level photo of the Two-Ten sport sedan, at top, and the Bel Air convertible. The new models went on display Wednesday at Carl Murrell Chevrolet Company. Bodies plus wide range in color choices total 460 for the line of Chevrolet models this year.

Children of Primary School See Fire Truck

"The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime" came Tuesday of Fire Prevention Week for about 270 children of the Hamlin Primary School when Lee Hastings brought the new fire truck to school, showed them the firemen's equipment and took each class group for a ride around the school block.

VISITING BROTHER.

The children wrote stories and made posters about the work of the fire department. They also learned how to help the firemen by not following the trucks to a fire or running over the fire hose.

AFFECTION RATED.

Since little Johnny's personal horizon had been greatly extended by several months at kindergarten, his mother decided to inquire concerning his current loyalties.

"Dear," said she, "whom do you love the best?" The youngster pondered the query soberly and then replied, "Well, I love you best, Mommie and Daddy next best, and my teacher the least. And in between come a lot of dogs."

Pipers Hit Road Again for Game at Albany Frigay Night

Nix-Men Due to Take Final Tilt On Open Slate

After four home games in a row, the Hamlin High School Pipers will hit the road again Friday night when they traipse over to Albany for their last non-conference tilt of the season.

Besides the usual number of Hamlin High School students, including the Pep Squad and Piped Piper Band, a caravan of boosters from over the community is scheduled to accompany the football delegation. The caravan is being sponsored by the Piped Piper Booster Club, which has led two other caravans to area games.

Hamlin is hoped to win the Friday night tilt, but Coach Truman Nix declares that just such a crew as the Albany Lions might trip his crippled gridders.

Lane Fletcher, stellar end on the Hamlin squad, will be out of Friday night's game as a result of a dislocated knee cap sustained in the Colorado City tilt. Herbert Lakey and Joe Murff are on the lame list, and Jerry Jay, who saw limited service in the Wolf game, still is ailing from his neck injury. Jay will be used on offense only, Nix says.

Albany has not won a game this year, having played some of the top Class A and AA teams of the region. The Anson Tigers defeated the Lions last Friday night by a 41 to 9 score.

DISTRICT 4-AA STANDINGS

District 4-AA gridsters further improved their percentages in last week-end's games by continuing their three wins out of four tilts for the week, although Seymour dropped from the 1,000 per cent rating with its loss to Dumas.

After the week-end skirmishes the percentages looked like this:

Teams	P.	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Stamford	6	6	0	0	1.000
Seymour	6	5	1	0	.832
Hamlin	6	3	2	1	.583

Pied Pipers Drub Colorado City 31-0 In Friday Classic

Hamlin High School's Piped Piper football crew entertained a big homecoming crowd Friday night with a 31 to 0 drubbing of the Colorado City Wolves on the Piper stadium. It was the Wolves' fifth straight loss for the year.

Hamlin started marking on the scoreboard 10 minutes deep in the first period. Dee Prewit recovered a Colorado City fumble on the Hamlin 25-yard line, and after three plays Herbert Lakey went over for the tally from the four-yard spot. Charles Jenkins failed to convert.

In the second period, after four minutes of play the Pipers again tallied when Don Adair passed to Virgil Wilson for a 60-yard toss. Jenkins again failed the pointer.

Doug Ford took the opening kick-off in the second half on the Hamlin 15 and raced 85 yards for another tally, and Jenkins' boot again was wide.

In the third quarter Adair handed off to Ford, who went over from the 15-yard spot after a 65-yard Hamlin push down the field. The extra point try by Jenkins again went awry.

Final score of the tilt came in the last quarter when Adair passed to End Jerry Jay, who went over from the nine. This time Jenkins converted.

Women Golfers From Four Cities Play in Tourney

Visiting women golfers from Anson, Stamford, Aspermont and Snyder were entered in matches of the golf tournament sponsored last Tuesday by the Women's Golf Association of Hamlin at the city golf course. Nine and 18 hole matches were played.

A buffet lunch was served at the club house for players and guests. The association president, Mrs. Joe League, had charge of the food arrangements. Mrs. M. L. Smith was tournament chairman.

In the championship flight of 18 holes Alice Wash of Stamford won first place; Rosemary Ballard was second, Mary Dyer took third place, and Dorothy Smith was fourth.

In the first flight of 18 holes Letha Brannon was low scorer, Gertrude League was second, Johnnie Briscoe was third, and Lena Hogan was fourth.

In the first flight of nine holes Corky Moritz of Stamford was first, Joyce Knabel of Hamlin was second, and Marie Carmichael was third; others in the flight were Elizabeth Poe, Anita Jackson, Geraldine Hymen, Blanche Heinlen, Winnie Abbott.

In the second flight of nine holes Pat Feagan of Hamlin was the winner, and Verlene Waggoner was second; others in the flight were Tommy Bunkley, Marian Richardson, Jane Brewer, Rosalee Flowers and Sis Springer.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Climb

Freight carloadings of the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending October 6, 1936, were 26,886 compared with 23,284 for the same week in 1935. Cars received from connections totaled 13,678 compared with 13,150 for the same week in 1935.

Total cars moved were 40,564 compared with 36,434 for the same week in 1935. Santa Fe handled a total of 39,732 cars in the preceding week of this year.

District 4-AA Grid Teams Further Fatten Percentages with Three Wins

District 4-AA football teams followed through with their three-win, one-loss pattern in last week-end's games to keep up a pace carried through five of the six week-ends since the grid season started. All three of the southern teams came through with victories while Seymour, in the north end of the district, was taking its first defeat of the season.

Seymour lost to Dumas by a 40 to 6 count. Hamlin defeated Class AAA Colorado City, Stamford trimmed Class AAA Brownwood, and Anson took the tilt with Albany.

In Stamford's twenty-third victory in a row, Mike McClellan was again the star as the Bulldogs mauled the Brownwood Lions by a 19 to 7 tally. McClellan made all three Stamford touchdowns. Brownwood scored on the second play from scrimmage and kicked the extra point. That seemed to be the signal for Stamford to go to work, and the Bulldogs racked nine first downs to Brownwood's three the rest of the way. The Stamford lads further proved their powerhouse tactics by making 254 yards rushing to 80 for the Lions.

Anson's Tigers looked good as they trimmed the Class A Albany Lions Friday night in a tilt played on the Tiger field by a 41 to 9 count. Albany crew, however, was maintaining a record of no victories as they fell before the onslaughts of the Jones County capital boys. Incidentally, the Piped Pipers meet Albany Friday night in their last non-conference game of the year.

The strong Seymour Panther suffered their first loss of the season by a 40 to 6 count as they journeyed to the Panhandle town of Dumas. Dumas was celebrating their homecoming and wanted to show the exes how things are done. Seymour made its only score in the second quarter when Larry Ware went over from the one-yard line. Scoring for Dumas were Jim Tiner, Bill Hibler, Dwayne Mowery, Roy Byrd and James Boyd.

Hamlin's 31 to 0 shellacking of the Class AAA Colorado City Wolves was unimpressive, since the victory added another to the string of five losses suffered this season by the Mitchell County lads. The tilt was played before a big homecoming crowd at Piped Piper stadium. Scoring for the Hamlin crew were Herbert Lakey, Doug Ford, two, Virgil Wilson and Jerry Jay. Charles Jenkins kicked only one extra point, it coming after the final touchdown.

First downs favored Hamlin nine to eight.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

Farmers Union in Fisher Soliciting More Members

More than 50 local members of a well organized team started driving the back roads and main highways Monday on a county-wide two-day membership drive for the Fisher County Farmers Union, according to Max Carriker, Fisher FU president. He said that a great number of farmers of Fisher and surrounding counties are now beginning to understand Farmers Union, and are ready to join the ranks in the fight for the survival of the family farm.

Fisher has a present membership of approximately 300 and has set its drive goal conservatively at 400, even in the face of widespread economic hardship, according to Carriker.

The Fisher County drive was to be climaxed by the regular Farmers Union October meeting on Tuesday night in the courthouse at Roby, at which time the membership was a hear a program designed to familiarize them with the new, more liberalized loans of the Farmers Home Administration.

"We are going to make an honest attempt to contact every farmer in Fisher County on the drive," Carriker said.

Veterans Must Make Insurance Shift Soon

Veterans separated from active service since September 4, 1956, will not have 120 days in which to apply for five-year term non-convertible GI insurance. They will have only until December 31, 1956.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office at Lubbock, said the new application deadline was set by the recently enacted service men's and veterans' survivor benefit act.

Wheat Growers of Texas Put 919,985 Acres in Reserve

Scores of Hamlin area wheat farmers were among the 12,116 Texas wheat growers who signed agreements and placed 919,985 acres under the winter wheat acreage reserve program of the soil bank through October.

Wooten said if the farmers who have signed agreements comply with the requirements of the program they will be eligible for a maximum of $14,067,075 in acreage reserve payments on the acreage pledged.

Aimed primarily at reducing price depressing surpluses of corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts, the acreage reserve program of the soil bank is available only to producers having acreage allotments of these crops or a soil bank corn base acreage. Wooten said in the release to The Herald. Program details for 1957 have been made available so far only for winter wheat seeded this fall for harvest next year.

The 1957 acreage reserve program goal for the nation for both winter and spring varieties of wheat is 15,000,000 acres. Nationally, through September 28, wheat farmers had signed 106,485 agreements placing 4,335,555 acres under the 1957 winter wheat acreage reserve program. The final date for signing agreements was October 5.

Social Security Man To Come to Hamlin At Regular Intervals

Persons residing in and around Hamlin will have regular service of a field representative from the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration effective this month, according to R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager.

Glen McNatt, field representative, will be at the Hamlin fire station at 10:00 a. m. on the following Mondays: October 29, November 26 and December 17.

Anyone with a general or specific question about some phase of the old age, survivors' or disability insurance provisions of the social security act should keep the above dates in mind and arrange to talk with McNatt.

Tuley advises that continuation of this service beyond December will depend on the number of callers, for if McNatt is not kept busy he will be sent elsewhere on the dates tentatively reserved for Hamlin after January 1.

Parker May Cited For Stellar Service For Government

Citation for superior service was recently given Parker May by the director of the United States Information Agency in Washington, D. C., according to word from the nation's capital.

The award was made "for superior service, loyalty and devotion to duty with the USIA, and especially for outstanding executive ability, intelligence and integrity exhibited in administering the world-wide program of the information service center," according to a certificate presented him. In addition, May received a handsome engraved silver medal.

Presentation took place October 5 in the auditorium of the Department of the Interior. Music for the program was furnished by the Headquarters Command Band of the Bolling Air Force Base. The assembly was addressed by Hon. William H. Jackson, special assistant to the president. The awards were made by Theodore C. Streibert, director of the U. S. Information Agency.

prior occasions, carefully considered the request by Tom Todd for additional help. On each occasion the request was declined because the Commissioners Court felt that every available dollar was needed in Jones County. The court has had an increase in amount of applications for help to indigent persons, which situation was brought on by the prolonged drought.

Another factor in the court's decision was the statement by County Attorney C. E. Brownfield Jr. and Sheriff Dave Reeves that they had each offered on several occasions to help relieve some of the work load of the district attorney on criminal cases in Jones County in addition to the normal duties of their respective offices.

I am very happy that Tom Todd, district attorney of the 104th Judicial District, was able to secure another secretary through Taylor County. This is proper and just because the increased work, if any, imposed upon the district attorney has been caused by the growth in population of Taylor County.

The criminal work for the district attorney has remained fairly steady in Jones County and is no heavier now than it was during the 12 or 13 years in which Esco Walter, John Wiloughby and Bill Tippen so ably served Jones County.

I sincerely believe that the decision of the Commissioners Court of Jones County was correct, and was made in the best interests of the taxpayers of Jones County.

The conference consisted of addresses by men of national prominence in the profession, demonstrations and group discussions.

LET'S MEASURE AN OIL WELL

... in West Texas

You can measure an oil well by its depth, by its production, or in any of a number of ways. But the real "measure" of an oil well is to be found in the jobs it creates, in the schools and highways it provides, in the stores, shops and industries it supports... in short, the real measure of an oil well is in the benefits it brings to all the people of an area. The West Texas Utilities Company, too, can be measured in the record it has made in helping the West Texas Oil Industry serve the people of West Texas.

Congratulations to the OIL INDUSTRY on its service to the people.

Film on Role of Oil Industry Seen At Lions Meeting

Vital role the oil industry is playing in the economy of the community and the nation as a whole was impressively pointed out in an Oil Progress Week program Tuesday noon at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

A film, "The First Barrel," was presented under the supervision of Joe League, field manager for General Grude Oil Company at Hamlin.

League, in presenting the film, first declared that some 660,000 men and women work directly in the oil industry, which handles about 2,133,000,000 barrels of crude annually.

The film depicted the odds taken by an oil company in finding oil in unproven areas, from the time first surveys are made until the well is completed. Other processes of piping, refining and distributing of oil products were also touched on in the film.

Three new members were initiated into the Lions Club by B. V. Newberry. The new members are R. T. Spaulding, Frank Legon and Rev. Calvin Bailey.

Iodine is made from kelp and ashes of burnt seaweed.

Approximately 7,000 islands compose the Philippines.

The U. S. War Department was created August 7, 1789.

Guests at the Tuesday luncheon included F. A. Hunter of Abilene, J. F. Hulsey, C. W. Griggs, James Ballard, and Rev. Bill Hanna.
